Dear Community Orchestra,

Thank you for your continued patience as we all try to navigate this difficult time.

It has been tough to know what the correct course of action is—none of us has a crystal ball. Our first priority is to keep everyone safe!

We have extended rehearsals into the first two weeks of June, and we plan to resume in person rehearsals on February 28 just after the start of the province's next three-week reopening cycle.

We will continue to do everything we can to keep everyone safe, including wearing masks, distancing, daily covid screening, and vaccine requirements.

We have been hoping to collaborate with other local musicians for some time now, and still remain hopeful that that could potentially happen mid June. However, there are still too many unknowns at the moment to establish any concrete plans.

In the meantime, the TBSO is streaming free concerts each week. Right now we have a performance of John Estacio's Sweet Sorrow for string orchestra, and a lovely piano quintet by American composer Florence Price. Unfortunately, what was to be next week's stream couldn't be recorded as planned, but I suspect they will be making other concerts from the archives available in its stead. Stay safe everyone! We look forward to making music together again soon...

Sincerely,
Tom Cosbey
